

Regulatory Compliance

In the management of fire safety, gap analysis is the comparison of actual performance with potential or desired performance. If a company or organization does not make every effort to comply with the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 it may be subjected to enforcement action. Gap analysis uses the principles of fire safety benchmarking to identify regulatory shortfalls. Once the benchmarking expectation is identified, it is possible to compare that expectation with the company's current level of compliance. This comparison becomes the gap analysis. Such analysis can be performed at the strategic or operational level of an organization.

In meeting a compliant standard the organization must fill the 'gap' in order to demonstrate regulatory compliance.

Requirements

Article 11 of the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 states that the 'Responsible Person' must make and give effect to such arrangements as are appropriate for the effective planning, organising, control, monitoring and review of preventive and protective measures relating to fire.

We work closely with clients to ensure that all fire safety needs are met in the most cost effective and economic way. Safetyform Consulting have delivered Fire Safety Gap Analysis for both larger corporations and smaller businesses all taking advantage of the skills, experience and knowledge of our consultants who have worked as operational officers, enforcement and prosecution officers within the Fire Service and who are able to deliver strategies and reports which are regulatory compliant and to identify any regulatory shortfalls within organisations.

The Solution

A Safetyform Consulting Gap Analysis will identify gaps in fire safety compliance, by comparing existing fire safety provisions against applied enforcement criteria revealing the planning gap. This represents a goal for fire safety activities in general and fire risk management strategies in particular.

Safetyform Consulting are specialist Fire Safety Consultants, our consultancy work delivers a bespoke fire risk management service fully compliant with the Articles of the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005.

Safetyform Consulting deliver a Fire Safety Gap Analysis report designed to guide and plan an organisations pathway to regulatory compliance.

The Result

Our Fire Safety Gap Analysis report identifies shortfalls in fire risk management compliance and offers a pathway to compliance with the avoidance of enforcement action.

Safetyform Consulting are committed to and passionate about securing fire safety and because of our Fire Service background our experience, knowledge and skill, are able to work closely with clients to ensure all fire safety regulatory requirements are met and fully complied with.
